Little Cake Bakery: Buckhead

Published by The Blissful Glutton on 7/20/07 at 7:35 PM

I have given up my fight against doughnuts and cupcakes. I surrender. I have found my new favorite cupcake--thanks to a tip from a friend. The bakery has been opened for about three weeks and the cupcakes are what I envision a perfect cupcake to be. Moist cake, fun flavors, and solid icing. The staff are also very friendly and the place just feel happy. I took a chocolate and peanut butter and a vanilla/vanilla to go. They were great! You cupcakes fiends should definitely check them out soon. You won't be sorry.

I visited the little cake bakery 2 weeks ago and tried the chocolate malt cupcake, sooooo good !! i ended up buying keylime, choc choc, red velvet, and another one that had banana something to take home and share with my family!! By far the best cupcakes weve ever had. I later went back and got 20 cupcakes in different flavors for a party , they were the hit of the evening. I Ill never buy another cake for an event again, these cupcakes were the right size, a flavor for everyone, no cutting, no mess, and sinfully delicious!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

I have been to two Birthday parties recently and these cupcakes were served! The key lime and the red velvet are to die for! I have also placed an order for a baby shower, they really are THAT good!

I, unfortunately for my wallet and waistline, live within a stone's throw of Little Cake, and visit them frequently. Yes, they are special little treats and worth every calorie.

Oh my goodness! My office is right across the street & we are all in trouble now. The boss brought us 3 boxes on Friday & now we know we will be there weekly.
